

Caligula

ON ICE

and other poems

BY TIM TURNBULL

Musical Director: John Williamson

“Abandon hope all ye who enter the National Exhibition Centre”

“Tim Turnbull, the future poet
laureate” The Guardian

Caligula

ON ICE

and other poems

WRITTEN & PERFORMED
BY TIM TURNBULL

Musical Director:
JOHN WILLIAMSON

Music:
TURNBULL & WILLIAMSON

From the Colliseum to the Music Halls via Tin Pan Alley, Tim Turnbull's barbed satire enlists entertainments past to skewer the iniquitous and the absurd in modern life.

His carefully crafted verse subpoenas tuneless folkies and latter-day Fifth Monarchists, credulous celebrities and office martinets to appear in a bizarre but beautifully realised alternative world.

With his deadpan delight in folly, Turnbull can be touching and uproarious, sinister and sublime within a few lines. Caligula on Ice and other poems is all of these and well dressed to boot.

"Turnbull is shaping up to be one of the most unique and important poetic voices of the decade." The Slab

TIM TURNBULL IS THE WINNER OF THE 2006 ARTS FOUNDATION FELLOWSHIP FOR PERFORMANCE POETRY

www.timturnbull.co.uk

The Arts Foundation